THE GOVERNOR IN HIS GOINGS .- GOVernor Holliday paid a visit to the Tobacco Trade yesterday about 12 o'clock. Shortly after his appearance in the Exchange he was formally introduced to the Trade by the president, Mr. B. C. Gray, who alluded in appropriate terms to the fact that tobacco people had spoken the voice of the business-men of Richmond by voting for his Excellency, and that business-men desired to hear the voice of Virginia in return. Governor Holliday, in rising to reply, was greeted with loud cheers, which were sustained throughout while allusion was made to the certain forthcoming prosperity of Virginia, but especially whenever he referred, in his earnest and manly and eloquent way, to the maintenance of the obliany material development of our resources. on cost of repairs than the eight-wheelers. LOCOMOTIVE TESTS. Messrs. William Woodcock, of the New Jersey Central railroad; L. A. Hodgman, of the P. W. and B. R. railroad; and David Clarke, of the L. V. railroad, appointed to report on locomotive tests, reported that they had sent out circulars, asking for replies to the following questions: 1. Have you made comparative tests with the eight-wheel Mogul, ten-wheel or consolidation engines, and which in your experience is best adapted for general freight 2. Please turnish statement of tests as to number of cars hauled by each class, give weight and dimensions of each kind of locomotive; pressure carried; kind and quality of fuel consumed; miles run; kind of exhaust; single, double, or variable nozzles; condition of road; grades; curves, &c. 3. Please give results of any tests of a general character that will be of interest and value to the Association. In answer to the above circular eight replies were received. Mr. D. L. Weaver, of the Eastern Kentucky, reported a comparative test between a Mogul engine, 17 by 24, and an eight-wheel engine, 162 by 24, on a grade 85 feet to the mile. The Mogul hauled up this grade 181 tons of freight, not including weight of cars and engine.

THE MOGUL PREFERRED.

CAPITAL AND LABOR. Mr. H. B. Miles, of Philadelphia, an associate member of the Association, read a paper on "Capital and Labor and their Reations." The paper was entirely non-partisan, particularly adapted to the railroad interest, and was an able expose of the subject, presenting ample food for serious reflection for both the capitalist and the laborer, and denunciatory of communism in every form. The paper was ordered to be printed in the minutes of the Association, and a vote of thanks tendered to Mr. Miles.

A SOLID CONVENTION. No convention which ever assembled in this city contained better material. They are an honor to America and fit representatives of its honest industry and moral worth.

As performed by the Kellogg Company it has made a sensation wherever presented. The work was given with great care in all the details and peculiar brilliancy in the principal rôles, every part and tone having the proper rendition in the individual and relative character.

The performance was singularly pleasing to the Richmond audience, for it satisfied the desire they have long entertained of seeing and judging for themselves the true worth of Marie Roze, who as a lyric artist had been heralded by the press with abundant and seemingly well-merited praise. That their most sanguine expectations were realized is but too evident from the unqualified marks of appreciation which greeted her bonest and successful efforts throughout the opera. She is an artist of wonderful and exceptionally rare abilities. Her voice, while not distinguished for a great degree of power, is yet beautiful in its texture and extensive in compass, while her schooling is of that high order which renders her vocal powers irresistably attractive. But this is not alone he secret of Marie Roze's success. To her abilities as a vocalist must be added a taste The president announced the standing and force in the histrionic art seldom pos-

In the quartette and chorus in the first act, and the finale, all the singers acquitted themselves well. Tom Karl makes a good Gughelmo, with all the poetic sentiment and adventure of the character; and Conley is very fine as Sotario. His rich, deep voice, pleasing as it was when last here, has wonderfully improved, and he was greatly instrumental in the success of the opera. In the trio finale, Roze, Conley, and Karl all sang beautifully, and were vociferously applauded. Such are some of the salient points of merit in a performance which was entirely good throughout. To-night Marie Roze will appear in Fa-vorita. Her Leonora is very celebrated. The Theatre will doubtless be filled.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTH MUSICALE OF THE MOZART ASSOCIATION .- The inclement weather and the unusual attractions of grand opera, which diverted a considerable number of the habitués from their accustomed seats, occasioned a sensible falling off last evening from the customary crowdfeature of the Mozart entertainments. There was, nevertheless, a large and appreciative audience present, and as the music was excellent the evening was no less enjoyable than usual.

The programme was exclusively instrumental. The selections for the orchestra, including the overture "Der Wanderer's Ziel" (The Tramp's Destination), the polka 'Les Fauveltes," and the "Circassian March," were rendered with spirit and effect. The solos for violin, by Dr. Bartkowski, included a new and exquisite little production, entitled "The Village Maiden. which was given with a degree of taste and feeling that would have awakened the dulllutions, presented resolutions of thanks to est appreciation. The third appearance of this young artist-last nighthas, if possible, heightened the general opinion of his capabilities, and he has already established himself as a favorite with our Mozart audiences.
